

CELEBRATING NATIONAL AMERICAN INDIAN HERITAGE MONTH

Kwanzaa Fundraiser!
The Mosley-Cooper Heritage House, Historic Site in Wilmington, North Carolina, hosted a community event on November 16, 2024, in observance of National Native American Indian Heritage Month organized by the BEMF Kwanzaa Committee.

The program featured Guest speaker, Dr. Arwin D. Smallwood, Dean of the College of Arts Social Sciences and Humanities at North Carolina Central University, who delivered an insightful lecture attracting attendees with diverse ancestry, including African, American Indian, and European heritage.

The event featured cultural exchange through language, storytelling, music, song, praise and traditional native food, acknowledging the US recognition of 574 federally recognized American Indian tribes and Alaska Native Villages in the United States.

To find information about and resources for Native Americans and Alaska Native entities, contact The Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), Division of Tribal Government Services, Mail Stop 3645-MIB, 1849 C Street NW, Washington, DC 20240. Telephone number: (202) 513-7641.

Special Thank You to Kwanzaa Committee, Volunteers and Contributors, St. Mark's Episcopal Church Jackson Hall.
